Summary

In the vein of Here We Are and How I Resist, and inspired by the #MeToo movement, YA and children's book author Janet Gurtler has curated a poignant and timely collection of essays from authors throughout the children's publishing industry in You Too?, shining the light on their experiences with sex...

YOU TOO is a nonfiction anthology featuring 25 #MeToo essays by authors from the children's publishing world, inlcuding New York Times bestselling authors Ellen Hopkins, Beth Revis, and Mackenzi Lee.

As more and more #MeToo stories have been shared over the past couple of years, YOU TOO editor Janet Gurtler began to think back on things she'd experienced as a young woman. Things she'd simply accepted, like being groped by male classmates at recess. The shame and degradation of being a teenage girl walking by a group of guys and hearing them call out number ratings. Working in sales as a twenty-something and discovering she was being paid less than her male counterpart, but not knowing or believing she had the right to ask for more money.

This collection, featuring both quiet and explosive essays about many ranges of sexual harassment and abuse, is the result of Gurtler's commitment to showing teens that they aren't alone; that they have a voice. It's not a pretty topic, but we need t...

Every Other Weekend

Abigail Johnson

Summary

Two teens meet and bond when they are forced to visit their respective parents in neighboring apartments every other weekend. A sparkling, nuanced and emotional read for fans of Rainbow Rowell, Morgan Matson and Julie Buxbaum.

Adam Moynihan's life used to be easy. Straight As came as effortlessly as friends and his home life was so perfect it could be a TV show straight out of the 50s. That all changed when his oldest brother died. Now his fun-loving mom cries constantly, he and his remaining brother can't talk without fighting, and the father he always admired proved himself a coward by moving out when they needed him most.

Jolene Timber's life is nothing like the movies she loves--not the happy ones anyway--and as an aspiring director, she should know, because she's been reimagining her life as a film since she was a kid. But with her divorsced parents at each others throats and using her as a pawn, no amount of mental re-editing will give her the love she's starved for.

Forced to spend every other weekend at the same apartment building with their fathers, the boy who thinks forgiveness makes him weak and the girl who thinks opening her heart makes her a fool begin an unlikely friendship. The week...

Don't Read the Comments

Eric Smith

Summary

Slay meets Eliza and Her Monsters in Eric Smith's Don't Read the Comments, an #ownvoices story in which two teen gamers find their virtual worlds—and blossoming romance—invaded by the real-world issues of trolling and doxing in the gaming community.

Divya Sharma is a queen. Or she is when she's playing Reclaim the Sun, the year's hottest online game. Divya—better known as popular streaming gamer D1V—regularly leads her #AngstArmada on quests through the game's vast and gorgeous virtual universe. But for Divya, this is more than just a game. Out in the real world, she's trading her rising-star status for sponsorships to help her struggling single mom pay the rent.

Gaming is basically Aaron Jericho's entire life. Much to his mother's frustration, Aaron has zero interest in becoming a doctor like her, and spends his free time writing games for a local developer. At least he can escape into Reclaim the Sun—and with a trillion worlds to explore, disappearing should be easy. But to his surprise, he somehow ends up on the same remote planet as celebrity gamer D1V.

At home, Divya and Aaron grapple with their problems alone, but in the game, they have each other to face infinite new worlds…and the growing legion of trolls populating them...

A Love Hate Thing

Whitney D. Grandison

Summary

A fantastic enemies to lovers romance about an It girl whose world is upended when a boy from the past moves into her house after tragedy strikes. For fans of Ibi Zoboi's Pride, Mary H. K. Choi and Samira Ahmed.

When they're stuck under one roof, the house may not be big enough for their hate...or their love

When Tyson Trice finds himself tossed into the affluent coastal community of Pacific Hills, he’s ready for the questions, the stares, and the total feeling of not belonging in the posh suburb. Not that he cares. After recovering from being shot and surviving the mean streets of Lindenwood, he doesn’t care about anyone or anything. He doesn’t even care how the rest of his life will play out.

In Pacific Hills, image is everything. Something that, as the resident golden girl, Nandy Smith knows all too well. She’s spent most of her life building the pristine image that it takes to fit in. After learning that her parents are taking in a former childhood friend, Nandy fears her summer plans, as well as her reputation, will go up in flames. It’s the start of summer vacation and the last thing Nandy needs is some juvenile delinquent from the ’Wood crashing into her world.

Stuck together...

The Sound of Stars

Alechia Dow

Summary

Can a girl who risks her life for books and an alien who loves forbidden pop music band together to save the planet from its otherworldly invaders? This road trip is truly out of this world! A beautiful and thrilling read for fans of Marie Lu and Veronica Roth.

Two years ago, a misunderstanding between the leaders of Earth and the invading Ilori resulted in the deaths of one-third of the world's population.

Seventeen-year-old Janelle "Ellie" Baker survives in an Ilori-controlled center in New York City. Deemed dangerously volatile because of their initial reaction to the invasion, humanity’s emotional transgressions are now grounds for execution. All art, books, and creative expression are illegal, but Ellie breaks the rules by keeping a secret library. When a book goes missing, Ellie is terrified that the Ilori will track it back to her and kill her.

Born in a lab, M0Rr1S (Morris) was raised to be emotionless. When he finds Ellie’s illegal library, he’s duty-bound to deliver her for execution. The trouble is, he finds himself drawn to human music, and in desperate need of more. They’re both breaking the rules for love of art—and Ellie inspires the same feelings in him that music does.

Ellie's–and humanity’s–fate rests in the hand...

LGBTQ

Summary

From New York Times bestselling author Robin Talley comes another glimpse into queer history, this time told from the perspective of two teen girls living in 1978, the era of Harvey Milk and Anita Bryant, as they find their identities and their place in the fight for gay civil rights.

It's 1978 and Tammy Larson, a closeted lesbian from Orange County California, copes with a life dominated by her conservative, religious Aunt Margaret and her anti-gay political campaigns by writing letters in her diary to Harvey Milk. Sharon Hawkins lives in San Francisco with her mother and closeted older brother and finds herself drawn to the pro-gay activism happening in her city.

Matched up as pen pals, Sharon and Tammy find themselves developing a long distance friendship based on a mutual interest in punk music. And as anti-gay political fervor sweeps across the nation, the two girls must use their newfound friendship to explore who they really are and what they truly stand for.

A master of queer historical fiction, New York Times bestselling author Robin Talley once again brings to life with heart and vivid detail the lives of teens living in an age where being yourself was an incredible act of bravery.

Summary

The incredibly epic and shocking conclusion to the Shadow of the Fox trilogy holds back nothing! No one is safe in New York Times bestselling author Julie Kagawa's final journey into the Japanese mythology inspired Empire of Iwagoto, in a series perfect for fans of Leigh Bardugo, Julie C. Dao and Na...

All is lost.

Kitsune shapeshifter Yumeko has given up the final piece of the Scroll of a Thousand Prayers, placing it in the hands of Genno, the Master of Demons, in order to save everyone she loves from imminent death. Now she and her ragtag band of companions must journey to the wild sea cliffs of Iwagoto in a desparate last-chance effort to stop him from calling upon the Great Kami dragon and making the wish that will plunge the empire into destruction and darkness.

Shadow clan assassin Kage Tatsumi has regained control of his body and agreed to a true deal with the devil--the demon inside him, Hakaimono. They will share his body and work with Yumeko and their companions to stop Genno and ultimately separate Hakaimono from Tatsumi and the cursed sword that had trapped the demon for nearly a millennium.

But even with their combined skills and powers, this most unlikley team of heroes knows the forces of Evil may be impossible to overcome.And there is another player in th...

Summary

Bel Canto meets The Breakfast Club, as students at an international high school find their overnight lock-in hijacked by fellow students staging an eco-protest, locking them inside the school until their list of demands is met.

Central International School's annual overnight lock-in event is legendary. Every year, students look forward to a night full of school sponsored activities with their friends, delicious food, and covert parties held in secret right under their teachers' noses. Bonds will be made, year-long goals will finally be met, and stories that will be passed down from student to student for years to come will have their origin---such is the reputation of the CIS lock-in. But when a group of students protesting the destruction of the planet's ecosystem chain themselves to the doors, locking everyone inside the school, the night threatens to turn from legendary to disastrous. With the teachers distracted and their exits blocked, can the students of CIS come together to save the most iconic night of their lives?

From Adi Alsaid, an author who has been compared to John Green and John Hughes comes an incredibly diverse and hopeful story that combines the quirky playfulness and teen sensibility of Th...

Summary

Japanese mythology, adventure and magic swirl together in book two of New York Times and USA TODAY bestselling author Julie Kagawa's mesmerizing Shadow of the Fox trilogy, perfect for fans of Leigh Bardugo, Julie C. Dao and Natasha Ngan.

One thousand years ago, a wish was made to the Harbinger of Change and a sword of rage and lightning was forged. Kamigoroshi. The Godslayer. It had one task: to seal away the powerful demon Hakaimono. Now he has broken free.

Kitsune shapeshifter Yumeko has one task: to take her piece of the ancient and powerful scroll to the Steel Feather temple in order to prevent the summoning of the Harbinger of Change, the great Kami Dragon who will grant one wish to whomever holds the Scroll of a Thousand Prayers. But she has a new enemy now. The demon Hakaimono, who for centuries was trapped in a cursed sword, has escaped and possessed the boy she thought would protect her, Kage Tatsumi of the Shadow Clan.

Hakaimono has done the unthinkable and joined forces with the Master of Demons in order to break the curse of the sword and set himself free. To overthrow the empire and cover the land in darkness, they need one thing: the Scroll of a Thousand Prayers. As the paths of Yumeko and the pos...
