THE OPPORTUNIST
Elyse Friedman

For fans of the HBO hit series Succession

When Alana Shropshire hears from her brothers, Teddy and Martin, complaining about Kelly, the 28-year-old “gold-digger” their 76-year-old father has taken up with, she ignores them. A single mom with a disabled daughter, Alana has more important things on her mind and has long since left her dysfunctional family behind. But her brothers persist, and eventually, she relents. In exchange for sorely needed payment, Alana flies to her father’s private island retreat to perform one tiny task in Teddy and Martin’s simple plan to make the gold-digger go away.

But when Kelly proves a lot wiliier than expected, Alana is entangled in an increasingly dangerous scheme full of twists, turns, secrets and surprises. She has long viewed her brothers as callous sycophants who sacrificed their integrity and freedom for a share of their father’s fortune. But what more are they capable of, and how far will they go to retain control?

Is Kelly really an opportunist? Or is it Alana’s father, an exploitative businessman with more than a few skeletons in the closet? Or perhaps it’s Teddy and Martin, who will do anything to secure their piece of the pie.

ELYSE FRIEDMAN is a critically acclaimed author, screenwriter, poet and playwright.
THE VIRGINS OF VENICE

Gina Buonaguro

In 16th century Venice, one young noblewoman dares to resist the choices made for her

Venice in 1509 is on the brink of war. Amid this political turmoil, nobleman Lord Soranzo, in debt to his trading partners and to La Diamante—the most infamous courtesan in the city—decides that his daughter Rosa will marry for a strategic alliance while daughter Justina will be sent to San Zaccaria convent, dashing her dreams of marrying her sweetheart.

Arriving at the convent, Justina is shocked to discover how the women of the convent find their own freedom in what seems to her like a prison. Soon, secrets, family scandals and a threat from La Diamante erupt and Justina must act as she never expected to protect the ones she loves and find her way toward her own future.
Belleville 1860: Lavender Fitch is a twenty-eight-year-old spinster, whose station in life is diminished after the death of her father, the local apothecary. Her only inheritance is the family house along with its extensive gardens. To make ends meet, Lavender resorts to selling flowers at the local market. Then, one day, a glamorous couple step off the train at the railway station. The lady is famed Spirit Medium, Allegra Trout, who casts a spell over the town with her striking beauty and otherworldly charms. Her handsome but disfigured assistant, Robert, singles out Lavender and buys her entire cart of flowers.

The arrival of the legendary Medium is well-timed. Lavender has been searching for a secret cache of money and requires Allegra’s help to contact her dead mother for clues to its hidden location. As the town’s anticipation for Allegra’s final show begins to mount, so do Lavender’s questions. Will the spirits make contact, or is Allegra a fraud? Is Robert really Allegra’s brother, or is something else going on? Will Robert and Lavender’s relationship continue to blossom or collapse under the weight of deception? Will Lavender find the money left by her mother or be forced from her home and beloved garden?
TUSCAN DAUGHTER
Lisa Rochon

A novel of beauty and inspiration set in Renaissance Florence about a young and defiant female artist searching for her mother

Florence, 1500—a city that glitters with wealth and artistic genius is also a place of fierce political intrigue, walled off from the unrest in the surrounding Tuscan countryside. In this moment, a peasant girl finds herself alone after her father is killed and her mother disappears. While desperately searching the city for her mother, Beatrice befriends the upstart Michelangelo as he struggles to sculpt the David. She also comes to know a cloth merchant’s wife who is having her portrait painted by the aging Leonardo da Vinci, renowned through the land as Master of the Arts.

Set during five epic years in the early 1500s when Florence was rebranding itself through its creative geniuses, TUSCAN DAUGHTER reveals the humanity and struggles of a young woman longing to find the only family she has left and be an artist in her own right, and the way she influences the artistic masters of the time to stake everything on the power of beauty to transform and heal.
AVA BELLOWS was raised between Los Angeles and Denman Island, BC, and now lives in Los Angeles with her dog, Sally, but sometimes she pretends she lives with Lorde, Florence Pugh, Molly Baz, Stevie Nicks, and Zoe Kravitz, just because it’s fun to imagine what that life would look like.

“Writing with wit, grace and perspicacity, Bellows magnificently captures what it is to fall in love…and the mess it so often causes. An extraordinary debut novel.” —Emma Thompson

“Take Sally Rooney and Lily King, then sprinkle Jenny Slate all over them…that’s Ava Bellows. This book is downright electric.” —Mark Duplass, The Morning Show

Maggie Hoyt is a quick-witted, house-sitting LA actress who’s dated one too many DJs. One night, while still grieving the death of her ex-boyfriend, she meets Rob, a charming tattoo artist who makes her feel like her best self—a feeling she hasn’t experienced in a long time. Their attraction for one another is electrifying and instantaneous. There’s just one problem: he’s married. Their precarious relationship forces Maggie to confront the love she’s been looking for, the guilt she’s been harboring, the grief she’s been hiding, and the woman she wants to be.

All I Stole from You is a fresh portrait of the pivotal relationships in our lives: with our romantic partners, our friends, family, and ourselves.
MYRIAM J. A. CHANCY was born and raised in Port-au-Prince, Haiti before relocating during childhood to Quebec City, and then to Winnipeg. She is the author of The Loneliness of Angels, which won the Guyana Prize in Literature Caribbean Award, and The Spirit of Haiti, which was shortlisted for the Commonwealth Writers’ Prize for Best First Book. She is currently the Hartley Burr Alexander Chair of Humanities at Scripps College in California, and a fellow of the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation.

WHAT STORM, WHAT THUNDER
Myriam J.A. Chancy

“What Storm, What Thunder tells the story of nine people before, during and after the catastrophic earthquake in Haiti 2010. In intimate prose, Chancy deftly reveals the inner lives of her characters, drawing the reader into their hopes, dreams and regrets, and recounts how each of them do—or do not—survive: a wealthy ex-pat executive with a secret daughter; a small-time drug trafficker pining for a beautiful call girl; a Haitian immigrant driving taxi in Boston; a teenage girl longing for the life she sees on tv; a grieving mother haunted by the ghosts of her children; an escort and her bodyguard who are followed by a man they believe is the voodoo spirit of death; an accountant forced to abandon the wife he loves; a visiting architect planning to rebuild a cathedral; and the old woman selling produce in the market who knows them all.

“Each of the voices entrances, thanks to Chancy’s beautiful prose and rich themes. This is not to be missed.”

JASMINE SEALY is a Barbadian-Canadian writer. She is a graduate of the MFA program in Creative Writing from UBC and is the former Prose Editor at PRISM international. Her short fiction has been shortlisted for several prizes including the Commonwealth Short Story Prize.

Barbados, 1962. Lost soul Iapetus roams the island, scared and alone, driven mad by the horrific memory of his father’s death at the hands of his mother and older brother, Cronus.

Seventeen years later, Iapetus’ son, the stoic Atlas, is an orphan living in a loveless house under the care of his uncle Cronus. Knowing little about the tragic circumstances of his father’s life, Atlas must choose between his desire to build his own destiny and his loyalty to the uncle who raised him.

In 2002, Atlas’ daughter Calypso is a beautiful and willful teenager who fancies herself an irresistible siren. Desperate to avoid being trapped in a life of drudgery, she falls deeply and dangerously in love with a hotelier. In 2019 their son Nautilus, a stormy teenager on a path of self-destruction, grapples with his fatherlessness, his mixed-race identity, and his complicated feelings of attraction towards his best friend. Then one night, Nautilus makes a choice that changes his life overnight.

Loosely inspired by Greek mythology, this intimate family saga, spanning four generations, is a novel about trauma and secrets, memory and myth, and how the things we don’t know about our family’s past, can end up influencing our future.
MAXWELL SMART was born Oziac Fromm in 1930 in Prague, Czechoslovakia. At age eleven, he was left alone and homeless in war-torn Europe when his family was killed. A father and grandfather, he lives in Montreal with his wife, Tina. Maxwell Smart is still painting at ninety-one.

THE BOY IN THE WOODS

A True Story of Survival During the Second World War

Maxwell Smart

A heart-wrenching story of a boy on his own in Second World War Europe, forced to fend for himself in the woods

When the Nazis and Ukrainians invaded Buczacz, Poland in 1941, Oziac Fromm survived by, at his mother’s bidding, taking the yellow star off his clothing and walking across the bridge and out of town. He eventually found shelter in the woods, spending many months on his own until a younger boy, Janek, joined him. After a nearby massacre, the boys discovered and rescued a baby, still alive in the frozen arms of her dead mother. The rescue came at great cost, however, as Junek died from hypothermia, and Oziac was again alone and bereaved.

Oziac would survive the war, and eventually made his way to Montreal, where he married, started a family, and opened a small gallery, changing his name to Maxwell Smart. Recently, Maxwell met with Janek’s family, an emotional reunion captured in moving prose, and with the woman who was the baby he saved, meeting the generations of her family who would never have been without his intervention.

APARTMENT 713

Kevin Sylvester

A quirky new middle grade story from the beloved Kevin Sylvester, featuring a building with as many secrets as it has doors, two unlikely friends on a mission, and an exciting time travel twist!

Jake Simmons hates his new home. The Regency, as grand as it sounds, is nothing more than floor after floor of peeling wallpaper and faded glory. And so, it is loneliness and a trail of misplaced kittens that leads Jake to the apartment of an elderly lady, then to the bowels of the building, and then to a job helping the custodian. With each passing day, Jake finally begins to feel at home, so the city’s plans to demolish the building come as a monumental shock—though it is nowhere near as shocking as being summoned to the out-of-bounds apartment 713 and literally opening the door to the past!

It isn’t until he truly opens his eyes to the wonders of the building and its occupants that Jake is made to realize: the Regency is not just a home, but a haven. And something in its storied past will give him the key to saving his own future.
